Standards and Frameworks

The mission of the California Department of Education is to provide leadership, assistance, oversight, and resources so that every Californian has access to an education that meets world-class standards.

A Message from the California State Teachers' Retirement System

Dear Educator:

We are pleased to participate in a partnership with the California Department of Education to bring this year's Educational Resources Catalog directly to your home. The Teachers' Retirement Board agreed that this joint project would provide you with an excellent resource that might not otherwise be available to you.

I assure you that CalSTRS preserves the integrity and confidentiality of member records and maintains control of member addresses in a project such as this. Again, we hope that you will enjoy the convenience of receiving this resource.

Jack Ehnes
Chief Executive Officer
CalSTRS

Adopted by the State Board of Education, California's content standards were developed to encourage the highest achievement of every student. They define and describe the knowledge, concepts, and skills that each student should acquire at each grade level. The standards are comprehensive and specific and provide ample room for innovation and creativity. Also adopted by the State Board of Education, curriculum frameworks are the major building blocks of the instructional program. The frameworks are visionary leadership documents used by teachers and other educators to develop curriculum and instruction that will prepare students for participation in a democracy and the workforce as well as for lifelong learning.

New Content Standards for California Public Schools

California Career Technical Education Model Curriculum Standards Grades Seven Through Twelve

These standards are organized in the following 15 industry sectors, or groupings, of interrelated occupations:

- Agriculture and Natural Resources
- Arts, Media, and Entertainment
- Building Trades and Construction
- Education, Child Development, and Family Services
- Energy and Utilities
- Engineering and Design
- Fashion and Interior Design
- Finance and Business
- Health Science and Medical Technology
- Hospitality, Tourism, and Recreation
- Information Technology
- Manufacturing and Product Development
- Marketing, Sales, and Service
- Public Services
- Transportation

Two or more career pathways within each sector allow students to apply academic standards and develop technical skills in a curricular area related to the career in which they are interested.

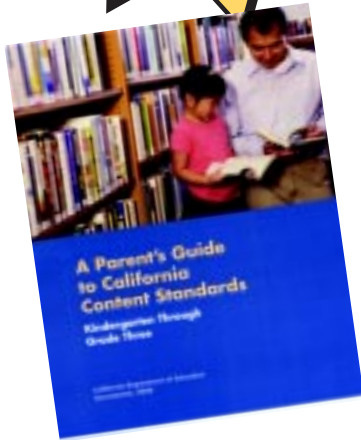

2005, 436 pp.

001609—$24.95

Physical Education Model Content Standards Kindergarten Through Grade Twelve

The physical education content standards identify and describe the essential skills and knowledge that each student needs to acquire at each grade level to adopt and maintain a physically active and healthful lifestyle. These standards provide guidance for designing and implementing a sequential, developmentally appropriate physical education curriculum. 2006, 76 pp.

001605—$12.50

New for Parents

A Parent's Guide to California Content Standards

Kindergarten Through Grade Three

The content standards contained in this guide for parents identify what children need to know and be able to do in kindergarten through grade three in the academic subjects of English—language arts, mathematics, science, and history—social science. This guide, which is organized by grade level for ease of use, will help parents ensure successful educational experiences for their children.

California's Nationally Acclaimed Program for Infant/ Toddler Care

The Program for Infant/Toddler Care (PITC) has developed high-quality training materials based on sound theoretical principles and research. Developed for trainers, program administrators, and teachers of infants and toddlers, these materials spell out a responsive, relationship-based approach to care in which teachers learn to understand children's cues, interests, and skills and use them as the basis for an integrated intellectual, language, physical, and social-emotional curriculum. The importance of forming a close, caring relationship with each child and family is emphasized throughout the PITC materials.
